

Corporate Profile

At Mazzetta Company, LLC, we understand that the seafood business is about much more than just seafood. It's about reliability, creative concepts, business and social responsibility, and most importantly, the ability to consistently deliver a quality product to you, our customer.

Much of our success over the years can be attributed to our focus on one overriding mission; ensuring quality. We take great pride in employing a hands-on approach in the production of our products; from harvesting catch, through processing, storage, transportation, and delivery. It is our belief that by being closely involved in every step of production we are able to ensure the highest standards and controls and ultimately deliver to our customers a product of unparalleled quality. This unwavering commitment to excellence lead Mazzetta Company to become one of the first major importers of frozen seafood to institute a self-inspection program, and throughout our company's history has guided a corporate philosophy predicated on consistently producing the highest quality product possible.

Although headquartered in Highland Park, Illinois, USA, Mazzetta Company maintains a strong global presence and sources seafood products from 19 countries around the world. From an office of merely 25 direct employees (and two family dogs), we indirectly impact thousands of jobs throughout the production and distribution chain and hundreds of millions of dollars in corporate revenues. Indeed, our transformation from a small family business to one of the top U.S. seafood companies responsible for importing over one hundred million pounds of seafood annually has been both humbling and extremely gratifying. Today Mazzetta

Company and its Seamazz® brand are widely regarded as worldwide industry leaders.

Mazzetta Company currently sources seafood from the United States, Greenland, Norway, France, Tristan de Cunha, South Africa, Chile, Canada, Holland, New Zealand, Australia, Vietnam, Thailand, China, Brazil, Bahamas, Honduras, Ecuador, and Indonesia.
